

GEICO - Ghost Hunters

:30

EXT HOUSE - NIGHT

OPEN ON - MAN, 30s and WOMAN, 30s stand in front of a non-descript house. They both look fatigued and the MAN has his arm around the WOMAN. Both are facing the camera.

MAN

We were excited about this house. It was our first big purchase and we were going to start our life together here. But then...

WOMAN

We couldn't sleep that first night.

MAN and WOMAN soundly asleep in bed. They are startled awake by loud thumps and moans.

WOMAN

The unexplained noises were enough to keep us awake. Then the lights stopped working.

WOMAN is taking a shower when the lights flash before going out entirely, leaving the woman in a dark stall with the water still running. More creepy sounds are heard.

MAN

And some things wouldn't stay put.

MAN and WOMAN are eating at the dining table. MAN takes a drink from a glass. After putting the glass down, it moves a few inches away from him. They exchange troubled looks.

WOMAN

We were convinced the house was haunted, so we hired ghost hunters to take a look.

A small crew of tech equipped ghost hunters walks down a dark flight of stairs that lead to a basement door at the bottom. A bright red glow and a low hum emanate from the closed door. One of the hunters reaches out to open it. Just before he opens it we cut to:

MAN

Then they told us the bad news.

CUT TO: visibly shaken GHOSTHUNTER, 30s looking at the camera. The other GHOSTHUNTERS are in the background packing equipment, etc.

GHOSTHUNTER

We told them they'd accidentally opened a multidimensional portal and needed to move out right away.

CUT TO: Front of the house again, MAN and WOMAN looking at camera. MAN turns and looks at WOMAN with a nervous smile before turning back towards the camera.

MAN

If only GIECO offered accidentally opening a portal to another dimension insurance.

Unbeknownst to the couple, behind them a light flashes in one of the house's upstairs window.
